Portal Claim Submission Error Message

MMAL Warranty have had a number of queries from dealers using the new portal submission system who have experienced an error message stating that another session is already open (see the screen shot below of this error message).

If dealers experience this error message they should do the following:

Click the 'OK' button from the error message dialog box and then close off the session by clicking the 'Close' button which is located next to the 'Submit' button (as shown below). If more than one additional session has been opened, then all other additional sessions should be closed off in this manner.

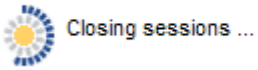

If after closing off all sessions the same error message keeps appearing, it may be that the system has been locked up and will require MMAL to manually reset it to allow additional claims to be created. If this occurs, please contact MMAL Warranty who will arrange to have access to the session reset.

The reason that this error occurs is because dealers are not closing off their completed claims and opening a new claim correctly or after closing the session correctly, they are closing the portal before the session has closed completely. Do not close the portal until the "Closing sessions…" symbol (see below screen shot) has completed and disappeared as this may result in the above error when you next log on to submit claims.

As advised above, the 'Close' button must be clicked once the dealer has finished with the claim (that is, a SAP claim number has been created or the claim has been saved for further work at a later date) and then a new claim is created by returning to the Service Homepage and then clicking on the 'Warranty Claim' link in the 'Work Overview' section.

Dealers should refer to section 5 (page 20) and section 6 (page 23) of the 'Warranty Submission System (portal)' instruction manual on how to correctly use these functions.
