Overview

Reasonable diagnosis, associated with the repair of a component or any related system, is part of the Flat Rate operation. When abnormal conditions are encountered, additional time may be required.
If dealers are unable to locate the root cause of the concern within 2 hours and additional diagnosis time is required, the Dealer MUST escalate the issue to MMAL by raising a TSR for assistance BEFORE proceeding with further diagnosis.

Claim Requirements

- If reimbursement for additional diagnosis time is to be requested, an application for additional Diagnosis time MUST be approved by submission of an Authority PRIOR to claim submission.

- All such requests MUST have
  - recorded in the Authority text
    - a comprehensive description of what needed to be done.
    - summary of all diagnostic checks and procedures performed (showing all test results)
    - TSR case number and summary of MMAL representative instructions
  - attached a copy of all relevant support documentation, e.g.
    - copies of the technician's handwritten report (Repair Order), which should include a summary of all diagnostic checks and procedures performed, and any TSR or MMAL representative instructions.
    - clocking records to support the work performed.

- Select Miscellaneous Labour item 'DIAGNOS' to claim reimbursement amount.

- Reimbursement amount is calculated on the basis of the actual working time, using increments of 0.1 (6 minutes), multiplied by the Dealers hourly labour rate, to provide the dollar amount to be claimed.

- Once submitted, requests will be reviewed by MMAL to ensure the documentation provided meets the requirements defined in the WPPM and SPM and properly supports and substantiates the diagnosis costs claimed.

- Requests failing to meet the requirements will be returned to the dealer.

Reference Information

Refer to the relevant sections in the WPPM and SPM (available on the MMAL portal) to ensure adherence with MMAL policy and procedure before electing to request reimbursement of additional repair time from MMAL.

Note1: Excess time incurred due to lack of technical skills, failure to use available technical information or lack of appropriate equipment is not attributable to diagnosis. Repairs undertaken as a consequence of incorrect diagnosis, or no fault found are the responsibility of the Dealer.

Note2: It is expected that dealers request assistance from MMAL Technical Service via submission of a TSR after two hours clocked without a correct, final diagnosis.
