Overview

MMAL advise that Labour Operation Times are now available for XE ASX in the Warranty Portal during claim creation.
These times are effective for repairs conducted from 15/04/2026.

Claim Requirements

- Labour Operation times are available for selection during the claim creation process, consistent with all other models.
- Select 'Item Type' Main Labour Operation.
  Available labour operations will populate upon entry of the relevant position code in the Main Labour Operation selection screen.
- Applicable labour time will automatically populate once the required operation is selected.
- Please ensure standard labour operation codes are selected where available.
- Actual time must not be used where a standard labour operation is available.
- Labour operation times apply to all claims with a repair date from 15/04/2026. Any unsubmitted claims with repair dates from this date forward must utilise the standard labour operation time where available.

Reference Information

XE ASX models are not yet visible in the Operation Code Manual. This is currently being addressed, and further communication will be provided once this is available.

Yours sincerely,

Fiona Lamond
Warranty Administration Manager
